Part-time Librarian
York University Libraries

York University is the leading interdisciplinary research and teaching university in Canada. York offers a modern, academic experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels in Toronto – Canada’s most international city. The third largest university in the country, York is host to a dynamic academic community of 62,000 students, faculty and staff, as well as 295,000 alumni worldwide. York’s 11 Faculties and 25 research centres conduct ambitious, ground-breaking research that is interdisciplinary and cuts across traditional academic boundaries.

Description of Position:

York University Libraries’ (YUL) Division of Teaching & Learning seeks a dynamic and innovative librarian to work on a part-time basis, primarily supporting teaching and providing research and consultation help as necessary for York University Libraries.

The Student Learning & Academic Success Department offers an active and engaging information and digital literacy program that aims to enable students, faculty, and others to recognize the social context of information, to develop information-seeking behaviours that transcend specific finding tools, and to think critically about information.

- Specific Duties:

Reporting to the Associate Dean, Teaching & Learning or a designate, the successful candidate will:

- Support the design and development of an information literacy and digital literacy curriculum with a focus on Health and other related Sciences.
- Work collaboratively to devise learning outcomes and instructional design techniques to underpin asynchronous information and digital literacy instruction
- Work with Responsive Web Design (RWD) techniques, H5P and video editing software to design interactive eLearning resources.
- Use Microsoft Teams to collaborate and create documentation and training modules
- Assist in creating training materials and supporting documentation
- Create/maintain online research guides and tutorials as assigned.
- Perform other duties as assigned.

- Qualifications:

- An ALA-accredited MLS or equivalent.

- Experience supporting the creation of curriculum, including course descriptions, learning objectives, course content, classroom activities, and learning assessments;
- Experience instructing or training individuals or groups/classes on conducting research in Health and other related sciences;
- Demonstrated ability to deliver student-centered information literacy and digital literacy sessions clearly and concisely.
- Demonstrated knowledge of general library resources in sciences and health and other related sciences.
- Demonstrated knowledge and skills with library instruction techniques, technologies and information literacy theories, including ACRL's Framework for Information Literacy for Higher Education
- Demonstrated experience creating impactful online teaching resources using RWD technologies as well as H5P and video animation tools
- Strong interpersonal, written, and oral communication skills
- Demonstrated knowledge of and ability to use current technologies used in libraries.
- Ability to learn quickly and be able to perform in a fast-paced working environment

Number of Hour per Week:

A minimum of 12 hours per week for a total of 84 hours.

Hours of work are flexible and determined based on the needs of the faculty/Libraries and in consultation with the successful candidate but will be Monday to Friday between 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Some hours will be on-campus but this position is largely remote.
